RE: Russia/Ukraine Supply Chain Effects

Daniel,

This letter is in reference to the request for information regarding potential supply chain effects due to the ongoing war in Ukraine and Russia.

API Delevan does not directly procure any raw materials or services from either of the affected countries. Additionally, as of this time, API Delevan has not received any notices from sub-tier suppliers regarding potential supply impacts as a result of the conflict.

Should any supply impacts be identified by API Delevan's materials team, formal notices and lead time updates will be sent out as these are brought to our attention.

Regards,

Ryan Evans
