Title: Han® M + B Duplication - India

Details of News

1. Concerned Part Numbers
See appendix
2. Description of News
We would like to inform you about a duplication of several Han® B and M hoods and housings. These parts will be produced in India in addition to our production in Germany and China. This duplication will be done in order to reduce the lead time to our Asian customers and expand our worldwide production capacities. With the duplication, Indian customers will be supplied with parts produced in India. The technical characteristics and of course all quality characteristics of the concerned parts produced in India and the other production plants are going to be identical.
3. Implementation
All article duplication is planned for completion by end of 2025.
4. Datasheet
For updated specifications and drawings, please check the eCatalogue.
