

Honeywell Announces Line Obsolescence for All Monitor Products – Analog and Digital, Hour and Cycle Meters

June 6, 2022

Honeywell is announcing to our business partners the exiting of the Monitors product line. These are commonly called Hour Meters and Cycle Counting Meters. Honeywell announced Last Time Buys for the Analog Products in 2019 and the Digital Products earlier this year. To assist our business partners in maintaining accurate records, we are sharing a complete list of these products. Many have already been made obsolete. Some were announced as inactive earlier this year and can no longer be ordered. Honeywell recommends all the below products be removed from all customer-facing information.
