Adjustments to the MKP AC general data sheet for the B3236* series

The Power Electronic Capacitors (PEC) data sheet for general purpose applications needs to be adjusted for the Filter Cap MKP AC single-phase B32361* and B32362* series. This change does not affect the electrical performance or reliability of the products themselves.

The adjustments include:

- Correction of the clearance and creepage distances, without making any physical change to the capacitors.
- Adjustment of the terminal dimensions and tolerances based on the existing design and the current production process, without making any physical changes to the capacitors.
- Removal of the FIT curves and replacement with FIT data.
- Removal of the V_{RDC} / U_{RDC} from our data sheet and from the labels on our capacitors to avoid misunderstandings regarding the use of the capacitors

Affected products: Filter Cap MKP AC single phase
