Description of Changes

TE Connectivity is qualifying an additional manufacturing location for an existing approved cable component supplier used in the manufacture of MATEnet cable assembly part numbers listed in this notification. The supplier remains unchanged; only the manufacturing location is being added. There is no change to product performance, design, form, fit, or function. Components from both locations are fully interchangeable.

Reason for Changes:

Product improvement. An additional supplier location will mitigate supply chain risk (lead-time increases, supply disruption) to TE and our customers. There will be no change to form, fit, or function from the existing Raw Material.
